Circulation Update

In the past several years, the circulation of Loaves & Fishes has become more challenging in some prison scenarios. Distribution was disrupted by the Covid pandemic in 2020. But the greatest impact continues to be felt from facilities who are switching to all-digital communication.

Loaves & Fishes Circulation

Lighthouse Publishing has several key goals for Loaves & Fishes magazine. These include maintaining or increasing our print circulation, publishing quarterly, and expanding our digital reach in prisons.

Increasing circulation can be accomplished not only by increasing the number of subscriptions, but also by sending more magazines to existing subscribers. Because of recent funding, we can now publish on a

Thank you to all of you who use Loaves & Fishes in your work with prison inmates. We are delighted to provide you with this free resource.

Please let us know at any time if you could use additional copies from our inventory of back issues. Also, please feel free to spread the word about Loaves & Fishes to anyone you know that is involved in prison ministry or chaplaincy. We have the resources available and would love to support more bulk distributors.

Reader Feedback

I just want to thank you for the help providing reading material for my journey to Christianity. I'm in the beginning process, and anything to help me understand God is a big help and is very much appreciated. Thank you.

Distributor Feedback

(People who distribute in prisons)

The women inmates in my jail enjoy the spiritual materials in Loaves & Fishes. They like the Bible studies and are encouraged by the testimonies.

Pray

Please pray for the work of Lighthouse Publishing, and pray for the nearly 2 million prison inmates in our country.

Financial Update

The cost of producing the next issue of the magazine is projected to be $35,000, including editing, design, printing, and shipping costs.

Our current funds on hand are around $117,000, not including our building fund, which means the next three magazine issues are fully funded at this time.

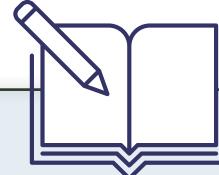

For this, we can only thank those of you who have cared enough to support our work financially. Without your kindness, and the work of those who are distributing the magazine, our work would be impossible.

—Mike Fisher, Manager of Operations
